

Gator Community Connections

College of Medicine Graduate Student Organization

The COM-GSO provides a forum for graduate students at the College of Medicine to address issues involving faculty, curriculum, facilities, and policies at the Colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, Veterinary Medicine, and other associated colleges within the Health Sciences Center (HSC) and UF College of Medicine satellite sites.

2. The COM-GSO serves as an advisory board, sending representatives to the Medical College Council (MCC), BMS Concentration Coordinators, the College of Medicine Student Advocacy Committee (SAC), and the Graduate Student Council (GSC).

3. The COM-GSO works to facilitate graduate student organizations and activities that involve education, recruitment, and philanthropic efforts.

UF American Medical Women's Association

The student division of the American Medical Women's Association is committed to advocating for and supporting the interests of female medical students. AMWA has been representing the needs and efforts of medical women since 1915 at a time when female physicians were a considerably underrepresented minority. As the number of women in medicine continues to grow, AMWA has been addressing many pressing issues facing women in health care and our UF chapter hopes to continue do so through discussion luncheons, workshops, and camaraderie.
